

Quality Policy

Donaldson Company is committed to solving customers' complex filtration needs across the Mobile Solutions, Industrial Solutions and Life Sciences segments.

To ensure that our customers' requirements are identified, evaluated, and achieved, we have embedded quality management systems to meet or exceed internationally recognized quality management standard requirements throughout our products and services.

To achieve complete customer satisfaction, we:

- Understand regulatory requirements and expectations of our interested parties;
- Prioritize product safety, sustainability, and reliability;
- Eliminate waste and variation;
- Set and maintain world-class standards and benchmarks;
- Develop and empower our people;
- Standardize and measure progress; and
- Prevent problems in all activities;

In line with Donaldson Company's key principles, we are committed to constantly improving the service levels provided to our customers and key stakeholders by routinely evaluating and continually improving the quality management system.

This policy is supported by our quality management system and adhering to the policy is considered the collective responsibility of all Donaldson team members.
