FOR THE FOOD INDUSTRY

WE EAT & BREATHE FILTRATION

Donaldson is a trusted supplier of industrial air filtration, providing effective solutions for food processing applications. Our filtration expertise, wide breadth of product offerings, and unrivaled product support optimize filtration performance and reduce long-term cost of operation. We offer an extensive range of first-fit and aftermarket products and services to keep your process running efficiently, from incoming ingredients all the way through to packaged goods.

Extensive Filtration Expertise

Donaldson has dust collection and combustible dust mitigation solutions to fit a variety of food processing filtration applications. Our products provide you with a wide selection of options to address critical housekeeping issues.

Combustible Dust Mitigation

We work with you to support your fire and explosion prevention and protection strategies, such as explosion venting.

Food Processing Standards

From plant updates to new equipment installations, we provide you with the right solutions to maximize efficiency and minimize cost.

Filtration Solutions

We are filtration experts and have a diverse range of advanced technology to address the unique needs of your operation.

A Buffet of Product Offerings

We provide a variety of product options to address your nuisance dust from bin venting, bag dumping, mixing and blending, material handling, portion cutting, candy coating, and packaging.

Downflo® Cartridge Collector

The Downflo is a high efficiency collector for free flowing dust, using fewer filters and less floor space.

Dalamatric® Baghouse Collector

The Dalamatric is our answer to challenging dust collection applications. It is an optimal choice for sticky dust or humid environments.

WSO Mist Collector

WSO mist collectors can be configured to meet your oil application needs.
